

THE NAKED ACCOUNTANTS CALENDAR

Sponsorship packages

The Naked Accountants' Calendar is all over the accounting press, and we are looking forward to seeing the finished product and getting it on the shelves!

However, this requires funds, and we are looking for some generous sponsors to help contribute to two great charities.

You can sponsor us in a variety of ways:

- By donating resources. We need photographers, advertising, photoshoot venues, online shops, printers and graphic designers.
- By buying one of our sponsor packages. Funds will be used for direct costs of producing the calendar only, and any surplus funds will go direct to the charities.

In return for your sponsorship, you will get advertising in the calendar and on the website, along with promotion on Twitter and Facebook, and of course that warm, hearty glow of knowing you've done your bit for charity. And nudity. But mostly charity.

Please email calendar@allbeanscounted.co.uk to get involved and read on for our great sponsorship packages

Main sponsor

- Logo & web address on every page of the calendar (more details if space permits)
- 200 word bio on the website
- “Sponsored by” on the website and Facebook page header.
- Tweets and Facebook mentions
- Press release mentions
- Website logo and link to your site

£500

Sponsored Month

We have 24 months up for grabs (12 months male/ group shots, 12 months female). Once they're gone, they're gone!

- Logo & web address on your selected page of the calendar (more details if space permits)
- Tweets and Facebook mentions.
- Website logo and link to your site

Random month - £65

Month of your choice - £75

Please email calendar@allbeanscounted.co.uk!

Small print (that isn't really that small)

As the calendar is a voluntary project, we can't guarantee how many Facebook and Twitter mentions you will get. Our main Twitter account is @allbeanscounted and has over 450 business followers and will aim to tweet regularly. Other members of the calendar also have Twitter and will RT and generally join in. Facebook is quieter but is more easily visible, so everyone will get a big shout out on there as well as on the main website.

Basically, this is all for charity and we will promote our sponsors as much as we can.

Anyone who has donated resources (e.g. photoshoot venues) will get promotion equal to a Sponsored Month.

Prices aren't set in stone. If you don't like what you see, make us an offer, but remember this is for charity and 24 brave people have gotten their kit off to raise lots of dosh for worthy causes!
